INTRODUCTION

The following text is intended to provide a brief explanation of the audience estimates shown in this report. The user is referred to the NTI Reference Supplement for a more complete description of subjects treated only briefly below.

The use of mathematical terms to express audience estimates herein should not be regarded as a representation by Nielsen that they are exact to precise mathematical values.

THIS NTI REPORT INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING AUDIENCE ESTIMATES

- PROGRAM AUDIENCE ESTIMATES (BY TIME PERIODS): Network programs sequenced by N.Y. time providing a convenient reference to preceding, following and competitive network programs. Two tables are provided.

NIelsen NATIONAL TV AUDIENCE ESTIMATES: Reported on tinted grid pages, including ratings, shares and projected audience estimates. Also reported are ratings and shares for program half-hours and ratings for program quarter-hours. Ratings data are provided in the "Program Audience Estimates by Time Period" table for programs and program-segments not accommodated on the grid pages, including once-a-week and one-time-only programs during time-periods for which the grid pages provide Monday-Friday averages.

PROGRAM AUDIENCE ESTIMATES (BY TIME PERIODS): Household and persons estimates expressed as ratings are reported for network programs by half-hour within daypart. Includes 20 categories of persons.

Whenever an origination-time telecast of an evening program is a repeat of a previous telecast, the symbol "(R)" appears below the program name on the Household Audiences grid pages and after the program name in other tables. This designation applies to the origination-time telecast of a program, not necessarily to any delayed telecasts which are included in the same rating. "Special" programs are identified on the grid pages by a frame around the program name and in the other tables by the "(S)" indicator.

- NON-NETWORK HOUSEHOLD AUDIENCE ESTIMATES (BY TIME PERIOD): Household audience estimates for aggregated station groups sequenced by N.Y. time providing a convenient reference for competitive network programs versus non-network activity by half hour. Reported on tinted grid pages, including ratings and share of audience. Reported for five categories: Independents, Superstations, Pay Services, Cable Origination and PBS. The Independent category reports viewing to all independent stations and includes Superstations and those stations broadcasting FOX programming. Superstations are a subset of Independents and includes viewing within the station's home market as well as outside. Non-network audience estimates are produced using the typical network lead pattern during each half-hour, even though some non-network stations carry programming using a different lead pattern.

- PROGRAM AUDIENCE ESTIMATES (ALPHA): Sponsored network programs arrayed alphabetically within eight (or nine) sections: Evening, Early Evening News, Late Fringe, Monday-Friday Early Morning, Monday-Friday Daytime, Weekend Daytime Children's, Weekend Daytime Sports, Weekend Daytime Other, and Holiday Daytime Specials (when applicable).

The Holiday Daytime Specials section will appear for the 1987-88 Broadcast Season during the weeks containing

Labor Day	Sept. 7
Thanksgiving Day (and the day following)	Nov. 26-27
Christmas Eve & Christmas Day	Dec. 24-25
New Year's Eve & New Year's Day	Dec. 31-Jan. 1
Memorial Day	May 30
Independence Day	July 4

Programs are reported by total duration and by half-hour for each clock half-hour during which a program was telecast.

HOUSEHOLD AUDIENCES: Average Audience reported in terms of ratings and projections and Audience Shares.

PERSONS AUDIENCES: Estimates of Viewing Individuals per 1000 Viewing Households (average minute basis) are provided.

Households and persons estimated are reported, (a) as an individual week average for the current report week, (b) as a "Quarter-to-Date" average which incorporates all telecasts included in the Nielsen National TV Ratings report from the start of the current quarter through the current report week, (c) as a "Season-to-Date" average, which incorporates all telecasts included in the Nielsen National TV Ratings report from the fall "premiere" through the current report week. The number of telecasts included in the Season and Quarter Average is also shown.

NOTE: For each reported program, the season start date (for purposes of the quarter-to-date and season-to-date averages appearing in rows B & C of the Program Audience Estimates (Alphabetic) table) is that date determined by the network to be the season start date for that program.

Telecasts with unusual coverage or not aired on the usual day or daypart (identified with "(B)") as well as Specials (identified with "(S)") are excluded from quarter-to-date and season-to-date averages. (See Appendix A. of the NTI Reference Supplement for details.)

Day and time of telecast are shown to assist report users in locating a program in the time-sequenced tables of this report.

- PROGRAM TYPE AVERAGES: Reported for selected program types, each program weighted by its duration and frequency during the reported period and excluding one-time-only programs except when otherwise indicated. Also excluded are under-five-minute programs. Averages are provided for household audiences (in terms of ratings) and for persons audiences (in terms of ratings and viewers per 1000 viewing households), in total and by age and sex. Demographic categories which are reported in two or more sections of the Program Audience Estimates (Alphabetic) table are included.

These data are useful benchmarks within which individual programs of the corresponding program type may be compared, rather than as a basis for deciding that one program type is "better" than another. Type-and-duration categories broken out in this table are limited to those with adequate representation to warrant separate reporting.

- TV AUDIENCE TRENDS: Overall TV usage is reported by major dayparts on page 1 (month-by-month, two previous seasons, if available, and current season-to-date). Data prior to the introduction of the NTI People Meter service (Sept. 1987) are excluded. Days likely to be unrepresentative of normal television activity are excluded.

Namely:

1. Major holidays as reported in the Program Audience Estimates (Alphabetic) section: Holiday Daytime Specials.
 2. Days when regular programs are pre-empted to a substantial degree on all 3 major national networks by extraordinary programming such as the National Political Conventions, the Presidential Election and other heavily televised news events.
- TV USAGE: Reported as ratings on tinted grid pages for households by quarter-hours. Reported as ratings in the Program Audience Estimates (by Time Periods) for households and 20 demographic categories by half-hour. Based on the typical broadcast pattern for network programs in that daypart. (See TV Usage Patterns Table on page H.)

Definitions & Reminders

1. TV HOUSEHOLDS USING TV: Number of U.S. TV households using their television sets during the average minute of each 15-minute time period, in percent of U.S. TV households. Based on N.Y. Time in the eastern time zone and, in other time zones, on the principal telecast time of the typical network program airing during that time period.
2. NIelsen AVERAGE AUDIENCE: Number of TV households tuned to the program during the average minute in percent of U.S. TV Households.
3. AVERAGE AUDIENCE BY PROGRAM TIME SEGMENTS: Percent of U.S. TV households tuned to the program during the average minute provided for each half-hour or quarter-hour. Programs whose start or end times do not coincide with clock half-hours or quarter-hours are rated within each clock half-hour or quarter-hour, respectively.
4. SHARE OF AUDIENCE: For programs, household audience during the average minute of the program, in percent of households using television at the time of the program's principal telecast in the eastern, central, mountain and pacific time zones. (The program's principal telecast time for mountain time zone households located in the Nielsen Pacific Territory is determined separately from those which are not.)

For non-network sources on the grid pages, household audience during the average minute of the half-hour, in percent of U.S. TV households using television during that time period.

This is computed using the same pattern as HUT (Household Using Television).

5. NUMBER OF STATIONS: The number of stations (transmitting the program at the origination time or on a delayed basis) included in the NTI program audience measurements contained herein is shown on the PROGRAM AUDIENCE ESTIMATES (ALPHA) table. Delayed telecasts of once-a-month and one-time-only programs falling outside the report week are necessarily excluded from those programs' station counts.

When a regular program is pre-empted, the station count reported for the week following its pre-emptions includes delayed telecasts of earlier episodes which were telecast during the week the program was pre-empted. Station lineup information is as received from the networks by Nielsen at the time of report production.

6. PROGRAM COVERAGE: Number of TV households that can receive the program over one or more of the station facilities used — in percent of U.S. TV households. This figure is reported in the PROGRAM AUDIENCE ESTIMATES (ALPHA) table.

7. VIEWING HOUSEHOLDS: Projected NIELSEN AVERAGE AUDIENCE (see Definition #2).

8. VIEWERS PER 1000 VIEWING HOUSEHOLDS: Reported on an average-minute basis for selected persons categories. Visitors are included. Children under 2 are excluded.

9. HOUSEHOLDS & PERSONS RATING (by half-hour segments). Programs reported as a 1-week average in the PROGRAM AUDIENCE ESTIMATES (BY TIME PERIODS) table for selected persons categories as a percentage of the total persons (of each reported category) in TV households.

10. LDH 18-49 W/CHILD L3: Reports the viewing by the Lady of House age 18-49 in households with any child under 3 years of age.

11. WORKING WOMEN: Reports the viewing of women who work outside the home for 30 hours or more per week.

12. NUMBER OF U.S. TV HOUSEHOLDS: As of January 1, 1988, the number of U.S. TV households (excluding Alaska and Hawaii) is estimated at 90,270,000, approximately 98.1% of all U.S. households.

13. NUMBER OF PERSONS IN U.S. TV HOUSEHOLDS: Nielsen's estimates as of January 1, 1988.

Suspense & Mystery Drama (OP, PD, SM)
Variety (CV, GV)
Quiz & Audience Participation (AP, QG, QP)
Children's (C, CA, CL, CN)

Informational (CC, DN, DO, IA, N)

Sports (SA, SC, SE) (Separate averages for Regular, Special and Total)

Programs under five minutes duration excluded.

15. PROGRAM LINEUPS:

NTI audience estimates are based upon station lineups as supplied by the networks or as received directly from their affiliates.

Station changes received after the established deadlines are processed using procedures developed by Nielsen to appraise the effect of late information on published rating estimates.

A program designated as a "Multi-Segment Telecast" includes 2 or more segments of varying durations and coverages. All such segments are aligned by minute of program with that segment which has the highest coverage.

For additional information, see Section IV, B. of the NTI Reference Supplement.

16. REMINDERS:

- (a) The program audience estimates shown in this report are not intended to isolate program or artists popularity or to appraise directly the adequacy of a station line-up per se. Rather, they reflect the net effect on audience size of program content (including changed formats or participants), program promotion, station facilities (see "c" and "d" below), time of broadcast (including departures from a program's normal scheduling), surrounding programs (including one-time-only programs and telecasts of special events), weather (which typically varies widely from area to area and from day to day), unusual social and political events, etc.

- (b) For purposes of reporting Households Using TV, households simultaneously using more than one TV set are counted only once during each minute when two or more sets are in use. In compiling program audience estimates, each station tuned in by a household is counted only once per minute, even if received on two or more sets. Because multiple-set households may simultaneously tune in two or more stations, the sum of the audiences to several programs telecast simultaneously may exceed reported Households Using TV.
- (c) Special events sometimes cause the pre-emption of a program on a portion of its normal lineup. A "(B)" next to the name of the program on the grid pages or the PROGRAM AUDIENCE ESTIMATES (ALPHA) or PROGRAM AUDIENCE ESTIMATES (BY TIME PERIODS) tables signals such reduced station facilities, provided the reduction in Program Coverage is 15 points or more. Evidence of such occurrences is also afforded by information regarding Program Coverage and Number of Stations appearing in the Program Audience Estimates (Alpha) table.
- (d) Note that network facilities cannot be fully appraised by any one yardstick. "Station count" ignores the distinction between "strong" and "weak" stations. "Program coverage" (as defined per Definition 6) gives no weight to increased opportunities for viewing among households to whom the program is available on more than one station. And neither concept can take into account (a) the proportion of the potential audience having a restricted choice of alternate program fare, (b) the proportion of the potential audience to whom the program is available only via "repeat" telecasts at times of day when set usage and competition may be more or less favorable than at origination time.

- (e) Cable Systems: The NTI sample includes cable subscribing households.

- (f) The practical inability to obtain cooperation from all households in the predesignated sample precludes achieving a perfect sample. Resultant imbalances in the distribution of the NTI sample may affect rating levels and thus alter the relative rankings of programs. For further comment, see the NTI Reference Supplement, available upon request.

DESCRIPTION OF REPORT TECHNIQUES

INTRODUCTION

The Nielsen estimates of the U.S. audiences to sponsored network television programs reported herein are for the 1-week interval shown on the cover. Household audience estimates are based on records produced by various tuner-sensing devices drawn from Nielsen's sampling of U.S. television households and which, on a day-to-day basis, meet Nielsen accuracy standards for household tuning data and are subject to no weighting procedures or other adjustments of the source information.

The audience composition estimates reported herein are based on Nielsen People Meter records from the same sampling of U.S. TV households meeting Nielsen accuracy standards for household tuning as well as persons' data and are adjusted to the household estimates. Adjustment is performed to account for VCR record in the persons audience estimates.

Computation procedures for Persons Audience Estimates are described in Appendix A of the NTI Reference Supplement.

SAMPLE

These samples are derived from an area-probability design that pre-designates households (see the NTI Reference Supplement). However, it is not possible to secure the cooperation of all pre-designated households, nor to secure usable data from all co-operating households.

Initially, approximately 55% of the pre-designated NTI People Meter households are recruited and installed. For a typical report period, approximately 53% of the NTI People Meter installed sample are pre-designated households. Systematic substitutions are made for households refusing to cooperate. Thus, the achieved sample is not a perfect probability sample, and such non-response may affect the accuracy of the report data.

All Nielsen audience measurements are made in households. The term household includes all persons living in "housing units," e.g., houses, apartments, as defined in the 1980 Census of Population and Housing, and excludes seasonal or temporarily occupied units and "group quarters," e.g., institutions, boarding houses, military barracks, vacation quarters. As of April 1, 1980, 97.5% of the U.S. population lived in "housing units." The sample design excludes Alaska and Hawaii.

Also see the NTI Reference Supplement for additional comments on response error, non-response bias and kindred subjects.

MEASUREMENT TECHNIQUES

TV-equipped households in the NTI sample provide records of viewing during the report interval, using the following techniques:

Nielsen Tuner-Sensing Device: An automatic recording device, providing minute-by-minute records of TV receiver tunings in NTI sample households.

Nielsen People Meter: A device, installed on each TV set in NTI sample households, by which persons can record their viewing. Each household member is assigned a button. Depressing the assigned button located on the Nielsen People Meter device or via remote, household members can record their viewing. Visitors can record their viewing by using unassigned buttons and entering age and sex information. The Nielsen People Meter provides minute-by-minute records of viewing by household members and visitors.

MINIMUM REPORTING STANDARDS

To enable report users to interpret these audience estimates with due awareness of the limitations of their accuracy as a function of sample size, the following rules govern their reporting:

1. When the sample size for households or a given demographic category is below minimum reporting standards, the symbol IFR is used to indicate insufficient sample for reporting. The sample size required to report estimates for a single telecast is 145. For multi-day averages, the required minimum sample size decreases as the number of days which contribute to the average increases. For example, the minimum sample size to report a Monday-Friday program as a five day average is 81. See the NTI Reference Supplement for further details.

2. When a program has an Average Audience for households or persons below 0.1%, such rating is designated < < to indicate that it is below the minimum standard and to avoid the connotation of zero audience. When total duration Average Audience is reported as < <, half-hour ratings are similarly designated.
3. When the estimated number of tuning households or viewing persons of a given category is below 10,000, the LT symbol is used to indicate that the estimated audience is below the reportable minimum and to avoid the connotation of zero audience.
4. Whenever the relative error † of a persons audience estimate is estimated to be 25% or larger, a symbol is placed next to the rating.
 - Λ Relative Error 25-49%
 - V Relative Error 50% or more

Audience estimates so designated are of marginal statistical significance and are reported as a convenience to report users who may wish to combine them with audience estimates for other persons categories, programs or measurement weeks, to yield a composite audience estimate whose relative error will be less than that of its parts.

When applied to an estimate of viewers per 1000 viewing households (V/1000VH), the symbols Λ and V indicate that the persons audience estimates which is the numerator of the V/1000VH is estimated to have a relative error within the indicated 25-49% or 50+-% range, but does not necessarily imply that the relative error of V/1000VH is of this magnitude.

TV USAGE PATTERNS

THE FOLLOWING TABLE DESCRIBES THE TV USAGE PATTERN FOR EACH DAYPART BASED ON NY TIME AND INDICATES WHAT VIEWING FROM THE OTHER TIME ZONES CONTRIBUTES TO THE REPORTED USAGE ESTIMATE. AS AN ILLUSTRATION, WHENEVER USAGE FOR SUNDAY AT 9 P.M. IS COMPUTED, THE FOLLOWING CONTRIBUTES:

9 P.M. LOCAL TIME IN THE EASTERN TIME ZONE (NYT)
 8 P.M. LOCAL TIME IN THE CENTRAL TIME ZONE (SUBTRACT ONE HOUR FROM NYT)
 8 P.M. LOCAL TIME IN THE EASTERN PORTION OF THE MOUNTAIN TIME ZONE (SUBTRACT ONE HOUR FROM NYT)
 9 P.M. LOCAL TIME IN THE WESTERN PORTION OF THE MOUNTAIN TIME ZONE (SUBTRACT ONE HOUR FROM NYT)
 9 P.M. LOCAL TIME IN THE PACIFIC TIME ZONE (SAME AS NYT)
